OUR GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Our work to drive inclusive economic development follows four guiding principles:

- Greater Opportunity: Prioritize investments that promote workforce development and economic mobility.
- Capital Access: Enhance access to flexible capital for underserved groups.
- Economic Resiliency: Grow emerging industries to diversify the economy and foster innovation.
- Climate Action: Drive investment in clean energy projects, clean technology, and resilient infrastructure.

SIG adapts programs and offerings to help meet the ever-evolving needs of the city, its businesses, and its residents. Whatever your current business need, we're here with the financial tool kit to help you prosper in New York City.

INCENTIVES

Our suite of incentive tools lowers real estate project costs and unlocks affordable capital. These tools take the form of:

- Discretionary tax benefits—providing developers, tenants, and building owners savings through property, mortgage, and sales tax reductions—including incentives for grocery retail in neighborhoods lacking access to fresh food, through the FRESH and ASTEP programs
- Low-cost financing—versatile tax-exempt and taxable bond financing for 501(c)(3) organizations along with exempt facilities, including energy and infrastructure
- Tax Credits—New Markets Tax Credits (NMTCs) that facilitate investment in low-income communities through flexible loans for impactful job-generating real estate developments

FUNDS PORTFOLIO

SIG manages a $180M+ aggregate fund portfolio that invests across real estate, venture capital, energy, and infrastructure assets. We seek blended financial, social, and environmental returns on our investments.

Our portfolio expands opportunity and enriches NYC's economy by improving access to finance for underserved groups and catalytic investment capital to strategic sectors, through dedicated funds for industrial real estate, nonprofits, life sciences, M/WBE, small businesses, tech startups, and other entrepreneurs.

ADVISORY SERVICES

We advise internal partners and external stakeholders on a range of strategic and financial topics. Our services include:

SIG works with internal and external stakeholders to identify key industries and trends such as AI, opportunity zones, prop tech, mobility as a service, and talent financing.
